Holy Trinity Church

For 800 years Holy Trinity Church has served the people of Stratford-upon-Avon and remains an integral part of its local community. However, as custodian of the remains of William Shakespeare, the church has an extended role of cultural and historical significance.

With over 250,000 visitors every year Holy Trinity seeks to provide an enjoyable and spiritually positive experience for all who come through its doors, leading it to rightly being called:

Stained Glass Restoration

Stained Glass Window Restoration

The stained glass of Holy Trinity is rightly seen as one of its great treasures. But it is in need of much restoration and conservation to protect it for future generations. We need to raise £60,000 for this work—to repair the glass, make good the fixtures and protect the windows from vandalism.

Although much of the glass is in good repair the window surrounds, mountings, and protective grilles need significant attention (see above). If this work is not done soon we run a real risk that some of the windows may become unsafe. With some windows containing rare medieval glass remnants, and others by the great Victorian artist Charles Kempe whose work also appears in York Minster, it is of great cultural and historical importance that we take action as soon as possible.

You can help us protect the windows for the future

Help us make the windows safe and secure for the future by supporting this project, either for yourself or as an interesting gift for a friend or family member.

Support the Stained Glass Restoration

All supporters — or their named recipients — will receive a mounted certificate, and a photographic print of a window chosen from the selection below, and will be kept up to date on the restoration progress. All money raised will go towards the restoration of Holy Trinity's stained glass .

Stained Glass Donation Form

To donate to the stained glass restoration simply tick the arrow pointing to the window you would like a photograph of and complete the form overleaf.

We ask for a minimum donation of £30 for one selected, £50 for two or £70 for all three
